Council Hosts To Street Committee

Lively Debates Marked Monthly Meeting

The ubiquitous street paving problem was again in the foreground Monday night at the regular meeting of Borough Council. Over a score of the group which put over the $75,000 loan last week were on hand to find out what Council planned to do with the money.

The principal question seemed to be the share of the cost of paving the streets that Council would bear. A resolution was passed several weeks before the election, in which Council stated that they would follow the Borough Code, and would share the cost with the abutting property owners.

No statement was made as to the proportions, and it was this question that came up Monday night. Council also had decided to put the new work through only on petitions by the interested property owners, and there was curiosity on the part of many to know how to word the petitions.

But the delegation of citizens were not there out of peaceful curiosity. The air became charged with hostility the moment the group filed into the Council chamber, and that spirit soon took verbal form.

Mr. Robert F. Wood, chairman of the committee, opened the discussion by telling President Hall that the proponents of the loan questioned the resolution regarding the disposition of the money and were of the opinion that Council was bound to pay the entire cost of the work.

Mr. M. C. Peter, Jr., argued that the loan, being passed by the people, overruled the usual procedure as stated in the Borough Law, and that it meant the payment of all the cost out of the bond funds.

President Hall pointed out that the bond issue was not a mandate on Council to pursue any specific operations, and that the money must still be administered according to the law.

Mr. Peter recited the various grievances he held against Council for their conduct of the street paving question. He charged them with disinterest and hostility. Mr. Hall replied promptly that he, and Council with him, resented the charge that Council had shown an unfriendly spirit, as expressed by Mr. Peter and in the committee's publicity in Our Town.

Said Mr. Hall: "A man in public office is open to fair criticism, but is not open to unthinking charges of an unfriendly attitude and a spirit of opposition. Council tries to give an efficient and economical administration with due consideration for all the elements which demand attention." He further stated that Council would continue to follow that course.

Mr. Peter countered with further charges, citing the fact that the petition in which he was interested was not put through and stating that Council had given no complete instructions on how the people could get their work done. His indignation terminated in a threat to retain an attorney and fight Council's policy. President Hall called him to order for the warmth of his speech and Burgess Carl B. Metzger took up the contest.

Mr. Metzger called the attention of the objectors to the fact that the Borough had done its part in the matter, and that the old petitions had not been acted on because the property owners had failed to raise the necessary funds. He answered the charge that Council was opposed by citing his annual message in which he urged action on the problems. The bond issue, he stated, had been floated to relieve the problem of financing, in addition to aiding the petitioners by sharing the cost, and would be so used. "The matter of the proper share," he said, "had never been brought up, but the bond issue had to be floated if street paving were not to be held up for a number of years."

With regard to the plan of the street bond proponents to employ outside legal aid, he called their attention to the fact that no outside opinion would rule Council, who took their advice from the Borough.

Lower Merion High School Suburban Champion

Local Stars Featured in Victory over the Lansdowne Team Saturday

After three years of constant effort the Lower Merion football team at last gained the pinnacle of their long-cherished dream and today are the proud possessors of the suburban championship.

The title came to Frank Forstburg's eleven Saturday afternoon, when the Ardmore lads defeated Lansdowne High in a well-played game, 13 to 0. It was the twenty-second straight victory for the Maroon and White eleven and a crowd of 5000 was on hand for the contest.

Lansdowne was the foremost rival of Lower Merion for the crown, but they seemed to be outclassed at all stages of the game. The losers, however, put up a great fight and the possessors of the crown won it by virtue of their superior fighting ability.

Paul Scull, the fast quarterback of the winning team, was one of the outstanding feature men of the battle. His long end runs gained for the Main Liners at practically all stages of the game. His forward passes were for the most part accurately and speedily thrown.

Peabody, the captain of the Lower Merion eleven, was right in the game at every play and his low and sure tackles were the source of much disappointment to the losers. He also bucked the line for many gains and he was almost a sure bet whenever he carried the ball.

The Lansdowne quarterback and leader, Eddie McCall, was booting, passing and line bucking for his team. In fact, he was the whole groundwork of the Lansdowne offensive and was a big factor in the defense.

Burnshaw, the fast halfback for the losing aggregation, was the joint star with McCall in the backfield, and when the plucky little quarter was played out at the latter part of the game, Burnshaw carried the ball on the few plays that the Lansdowne eleven had the ball in its possession.

The first period was started off with a bang by the Main Line team and the first part of it was devoted to a punting duel between Paul Scull and McCall. Both teams were called for being off sides many times during the period and also in the later stages of the conflict.

Peabody Scores First Touchdown.

Exactly six minutes after the game started Peabody deposited the pigskin over the goal line. The score was the result of a march from the Lansdowne 20-yard line after Lockwood had pounced on a loose ball. Scull was a big factor in the subsequent play, but he failed to kick the extra point.

In the remainder of the period little worthy of note happened, except that Hood and McCall opened up a stiff attack against the Lower Merion line, but were in the main unsuccessful.

The ball at the start of the second period was on the Lower Merion 34-yard line. McCall fumbled on the second play and Schwartz scooped the ball up after several of the players had juggled it. Several passes on the part of Lower Merion failed and the ball passed into the possession of the Garnet and Gray. Grant Sharpless then figured for the first time in a lone end run, which gained about five yards.

Hood also followed with a slight gain, but McCall was forced to kick and the ball was put back into play on Lansdowne's 30-yard line. When the ball came back to the visitors McCall sent the pigskin spinning to

COMMUNITY CLUB

Observes Armistice Day in Regular Meeting.

Armistice day furnished the subject for the meeting of the Women's Community Club last Tuesday afternoon. The room was tastefully decorated with many American flags, red carnations and red candles in old-time glass or brass candlesticks and tea in charge of Mrs. E. C. Town was served from what appeared to be Revolutionary china. After the reading and adoption of minutes of previous meetings a Public Ledger editorial on "Meaning of Armistice Day" was read by Mrs. H. I. McConnell. Mrs. E. C. Drew reported on legislation relating to child labor. Mrs. Jacobs then introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mr. Harold Evans, member of the International Relations Committee, who spoke most interestingly on "The Geneva Protocol."

Mr. Evans explained that this is a treaty adopted at the conference at Geneva which members of the League of Nations hope to have ratified at a peace conference to be held at Geneva in June, 1925. Copies of the Protocol, which is issued in English and in French, may be obtained from the League of Nations Non-Partisan Association, 6 East 39th street, New York city.

Mr. Evans urged that the public should be educated to an understanding of international relations and hoped that the United States will send representatives to the conference next year.

Kipling's "Recessional" with the music by De Koven was beautifully sung by a trio consisting of Mrs. T. N. Butler, Mrs. J. C. Meyer and Mrs. L. H. Trotter. This was followed by a prayer for peace by Rev. Gibson Bell of All Saints Church, Wynnewood.

Home from College.

Miss Virginia Walker, of South Narberth avenue, returned home last week from Wilson College, Chambersburg, Pa., where she is a student.

Please renew promptly.

SELLS HARDWARE STORE

Edward J. Lyons Buys Bergner Hardware Company.

Announcement has been made of the sale of the Bergner Hardware Company, on Haverford avenue, to Mr. Edward J. Lyons, of Ardmore.

Mr. Bergner has purchased a large general store, with a coal, feed and lumber business at Anselma, Chester county, and will take up his residence on a 30-acre farm at that place.

The change in ownership took place Wednesday night, but Mr. Bergner will not assume control of his new business for several weeks. Mr. E. A. Keith is the manager of the store under the new ownership. It is being operated as an branch of the large store in Ardmore.

The Bergner Hardware Company was established in January, 1922, and through the efforts and personal popularity of its owner grew to its present flourishing business. Mr. Bergner has been identified with many local activities since his residence in Narberth. He is a member of the Narberth Tennis Club, of the American Legion and is a director of the Narberth Civic Association.

He has announced his intention of keeping his membership in local affairs, as Anselma is but an hour's run from Narberth.

MRS. ALBERT B. EYRE

Mrs. Mary Eyre, wife of Albert B. Eyre, of 123 Woodside avenue, died last Friday following an operation.

She is survived by her husband and three daughters, Margaret, Eleanor and Virginia. Misses Margaret and Eleanor Eyre are graduates of the Narberth High School. The funeral was held from her late residence Tuesday afternoon.

The next meeting of the Republican Women of Narberth will be held in Elm Hall, Monday, December 1, at 3 P. M. There will be a speaker on Child Labor, and a report of the answers from Pennsylvania Senators and Representatives to the Pennsylvania Child Labor Association will be given.

Stars Galore for Alumni Game.

Stars galore will appear in the line-up of the Lower Merion High Alumni team in its annual battle with the Lower Merion Varsity on Saturday, November 29. The latest addition to the illustrious crew is Clark Wilson, Penn State quarterback, who will probably see action against Penn on Franklin Field tomorrow in the Pennsylvania-State game.

In addition to Wilson there will be Bill Shupert, former quarterback at Brown, and present coach at Media High, who is organizing the Alumni stars for their annual tussle with the Maroon and White undergraduates, and Les Hawes; Folwell Scull, former Lower Merion captain and now regular end on the Penn Fresh eleven; Peterson, from the Brown Fresh, and Barr, Franklin and Marshall Varsity end.

This is just the beginning of the famed crew which will appear to do battle for the graduates. Coach Shupert is in touch with a number of other well-known old-timers and shortly expects to add more widely known grid players to his list.

The proceeds of the game will go to the Lower Merion High Alumni Association Memorial Scholarship Fund. No tickets will be sold, all admissions being paid at the gate. The tax will be 50 cents.

The Mock Trial.

Reputations were blasted, local figures mocked and various Narberth sides made to ache with mirth last Friday night at Elm Hall.

The occasion was the Mock Trial, staged by the Harold D. Speakman Post, No. 356, American Legion. The title of the case was "Karlmetz vs. Livingrock" and the subject was a suit for libel.

It appears that Col. Hezaburd Karlmetz has been lambasted in a certain publication called "Our Town," and brought suit for $50,000 against Mr. Phillip Livingrock, the editor of said paper for a statement questioning the colonel's participation in the Civil War, which cost him some sort of election or other.

The case was brought before Hon. Frederick Bawler (The resemblance to local names, of course, is accidental) and many were the charges and counter charges, to say nothing of "wise-cracks" and puns.

The trial was constantly interrupted by one of the principals, a la opera, coming forward and rendering a ditty. Songs were sung by H. G. Sparks, Clarence Long, Allan Shubert and George Shinn.

The trial finally wound up by the awarding of six cents to the Colonel, and by the staging of an excellent dance to which a large part of the audience stayed.

The characters were as follows:

Hon. Frederick Bawler, Judge. H. G. Sparks; Col. Hezaburd Karlmetz, plaintiff. A. J. Betus; Phillip Livingrock, defendant. W. A. Crowe, Jr.; Hon. Betcher I. Sticks, plaintiff's attorney. G. H. Shinn; Butler D. Smedley, defendant's attorney. H. A. Frye; Prof. Socrates Fairiestown, defendant's witness. Dr. R. M. Staley; D. Rickland Gunn, plaintiff's witness. G. D. Bullock; U. Will B. Dunn, Clerk of Court. R. C. Collins.

Jury Panel

Adonis Evergreen, W. R. O'Sullivan; Dusty Bumber, C. Long; Hans Blotwurst, A. E. Shubert; Hiram Hayseed, T. E. Knutzen; Chuck Connors, J. P. Leonard; John L. Fitzcorbett, J. A. Mowrer, Jr.; Will Marshmellow, M. B. du Marais; Daniel Moriarity, J. Boyd; Theodore Rosenvelt, H. A. Simpson; I. B. Thickskull, John Mowrer.

Two Watchmen.

The Fire Company and Council have co-operated to relieve a serious gap in the working of our fire-fighting arrangements. Many delays have occurred in the answering of calls, due to the fact that there has been no day watchman.

It has been decided to have a man on day at all times, and George Gillespie has been employed as day watchman. The resignation of Charles B. Young as night watchman and janitor was received, and he has been replaced by James Gillespie, a son of the day man.

To Present Play Tuesday

"A Rose O' Plymouth Town" at Elm Hall

The cabin of the ship of Miles Standish forms the stage setting for the play called "A Rose O' Plymouth Town," a four-act comedy written by Beulah Marie Dix and Evelyn Grenleaf Sutherland.

The cast of characters is as follows: Miles Standish, Captain of Plymouth, Evelyn Shaw; Garrett Foster, of Weston's men, Suzanne Gill; John Margeson, Mae Aiken; Philippe de la Moya, Kathleen McConnell; Miriam Chillingley, cousin to the Captain, Bertha Bauer; Barbara Standish, wife to the Captain, Helene Dunlop; Resolute Story, aunt to the Captain, Faith Farmer; Rose de la Noye, Eunice Frye.

Place: Plymouth in New England. Time: 1622-1623.

Act one takes place in the grey light of early morning on a warm August day. Because a young swain from another colony jumps in the window bearing young corn he has stolen from the Captain's field the authors call this act "Stolen Fruit." The second act called "A Maid's Choice" takes place on an afternoon in October—and there is a duel! "Red Light on the Snow" (the third act) takes place on a dark night in March, during which there is a fight with the Indians. And the next afternoon (in act four) Rose finds out which of her two lovers really is "The Better Man."

"A Rose o' Plymouth Town" is to be given in Elm Hall, Tuesday, November 18, at 8 P. M. Tickets at 50 cents may be obtained from Mrs. Louise Cockrill at 215 Hampden avenue (phone 379), or from any member of the cast. The play is under the direction of Mrs. Eunice Frye, dramatic chairman; the wardrobe is in charge of Mrs. Susan Mueller. There will be music between the acts arranged by Mrs. Katherine Trotter.

WANTED

an 11-letter hyphenated word meaning good time. If you are a crossword puzzle fan try to guess that one.

The answer is Dinner-dance and it is to be given by the Narberth Tennis Association on Friday evening, November 21, in Elm Hall.

That old time-worn excuse, "I don't dance," is no good this time. Admitting that you don't dance we know that everybody eats and so 100 per cent attendance is expected.

This is the big event of the season and the committee is making every effort to accommodate every club member and as many of their friends as care to attend. Mike Fisch and his Orchestra will supply the music and as has been the custom in the past the winners of the various club events during the past season will be presented with cups. The presentations will be made by President Bill Evans.

In order that the committee may amply provide for everyone who wishes to attend, reservations should be made at once. Those who did not receive cards can make reservations by phoning or writing to anyone on the committee which is as follows: John Wine, chairman; Miss Francis Diamond, Roy C. Williams, Keith Monnington and Carl Metzger, Jr.

To Meet Tuesday.

The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of Trinity Lutheran Church will hold the meeting for November on next Tuesday, the 18th, 2.30 P. M., at the residence of the pastor, Rev. McLinn, 214 Essex avenue. It is hoped that all members will be present.

Visitors are welcome.

The annual thank offering meeting of the W. H. and Foreign Missionary Society of the Lutheran congregation will be held on Sunday evening, November 30. At this time the thank offering boxes will be received.

Do not miss the Sour Krout supper at the V. M. C. A. given by the Ladies' Aid of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, Thursday, November 20, at 5.30.

Good eats—home-made pies.

"Borough Babies" Next Week

Extravaganza Will Be Staged at St. Margaret's

As the sun goes down over the western hills this Saturday evening, the Minstrel Men shall be hied away once again for several days of peace and quiet, for it is indeed a formidable fray which confronts them, the most tremendous effort of their comprehensive career, and in a gracious isolation, far removed from the madding throng, there shall be restored to them, 'midst the soothing of the melancholy autumn winds, a rehabilitation of that strength and nerve which have been so sadly depleted by the deep draughts of the period of preparation. Therefore, there shall be declared a moratorium on all things pertaining to them, and if wives or creditors have any complaints they should remember that Art is a stern mistress and must not be denied. Meanwhile, the rest of us shall hold fast and, with high hope and eager expectancy, await their return and the booming birth of "Borough Babies," on next Wednesday and Thursday evenings at St. Margaret's Hall.

The display advertisement elsewhere in this issue outlines in a highly conservative manner a casual suggestion of the hilarious histrionics which are in store for this blessed borough, but that's not the half of it, we are told, and it is only a proper regard for comfort and safety that precludes proclaiming the actual facts of the case and all the features of the extraordinary extravaganza which shall have its brilliant bloom during the week ahead of us. To conform with the truly artistic spirit which guides and governs the project, the tickets, as usual, shall be sold on a less-than-cost-basis, $1 per each, and so that the children shall not be denied, 50 cents paid at the door shall see them through. All this means, of course, a fine day tonight for the police, as crowds are crowds, after all, but the women are assured that the law of the sea, not the trolley, shall strictly apply for them, and if a man won't yield his seat, then this can be taken as proper authority to sit on his lap.

And so that the measure of value shall be overflowing, McGrath's Orchestra, of radio fame, will conduct both the presentation and the reception which shall follow it, which adds a frill and a furbelow to what, without doubt, shall be the most gorgeous and gala occasion which has ever occurred in this fine town of fine affairs.

Tickets may be had at Howard's and Davis.

REPLIES TO LETTER

To the Editor of Our Town:
In conducting our recent campaign for the street bond issue, we endeavored to attack policies of Council, rather than the individual members, and to keep all our printed statements impersonal and well inside the bounds of truth. The only reason why my name appeared was because we would not employ unsigned or anonymous statements. It is with reluctance, therefore, that I reply to Councilman Redifer's personal reference to me and my street in his letter in your last issue.

Mr. Redifer's long and capable service in Council and the aspect in which he is widely held are indications that he would not have made his reference to Forrest avenue paving if he had recalled that two years after Mr.
W. D. Smedley failed to secure for us paving petition a requisite number of signers on that street, another petition with a sufficient number of signers was presented to Council. That was in the early summer of 1923 and that fully signed petition requested that the expense of paving should be assessed against the abutting properties. It is true, however, that these petitioners did not agree to pay full cash in advance and that, we were told, was the reason why nothing came of it.
ROBERT F. WOOD.

To the Editor of Our Town:
Will you please extend to the person responsible for clearing the lot in back of the Y. W. C. A.
Building a hearty "Thank You?"
That is surely a praiseworthy
civic deed.
BOOSTER.

Basketball.

The Narberth basketball teams expect to put over something big this year. Manager Harry Hollar has entered the team in the Philadelphia Manufacturers' League under the name of "The Narberth Business Men's Association." Manager Hollar and the teams hope the business men of Narberth and the public will support the team as well as they have done all other sports in the past.
This is the first time Narberth has ever tried to enter into this class of basketball and it is hoped they come through just like all other Narberth sports (on top).
Last year this team won the championship of the Overbrook Church League. This year the company is much faster, but they still hope to bring home the bacon.

In the near future you will have a caller at your door (if you have not already had one), please do not turn him away empty-handed,
as the teams depend on your support.

A New Resident.

Margaret Mary Cabrey waited until the stage was cleared of all the Halloween hilarity and then, in a dignified and decorous manner, made her advent into our old world bright and early on the morning of November 1, 1924, since which time she has been sojourning at the Jefferson Hospital. Mother and baby are both doing exceedingly well.

played Holmes Junior High School again at Narberth. The score was 2-1 in favor of Holmes. The Nar-berth boys fought hard but not many substitutions could be made because the substitutes were too small for the larger boys of Holmes.

On Friday in assembly the Ninth Grade sang three selections. They were: "Oh, Mighty Land," "The Marseillaise" and "Speed Our Republic." Miss Speakman also called on many individuals to sing.

The pictures of the hockey and soccer teams were taken last Wednesday.

Many papers are being published in Narberth School. The Eighth Special paper is called "Special Explosions" and the Eighth A paper is called "Legal Lights." A school paper, "The Compass," is being formed in the Ninth Grade. The price is 25 cents and there are hopes raphy class the pupils are making geography logs in which records and souvenirs of imaginary journeys are kept. Individuality is the keynote of this work.

In the library at school many signs concerning Book Week are being posted. The Eighth Special bring descriptions of favorite book characters.

LOWER MERION ALUMNI

To Give Dance After Football Game.

Saturday, November 29, will be
"Alumni Day" at Lower Merion High School. In the afternoon a football team picked from the alumi will play the high school team on the athletic field. In the evening there will be a dance in the senior high school gymnasium.

Extensive preparations are being made for a dance that will be even better than last year. Girard Ruddick, '23, is in charge of the arrangements and with the aid of a very capable committee is carrying out plans for a most enjoyable evening.

The music will be furnished by Roy Seagrave's Collegians—six of them. They have tickled the feet at many a fraternity ball or hop at the Bellevue and Rittenhouse Hotels.

The Gymnasium will be quite artistically decorated in keeping with the season and there will be novelties for all.

Subscription will be Two Dollars per couple.

Tickets have been sent to all alumi. Others who desire to attend will be quite welcome and their subscription will be accepted at the door.

It is earnestly desired that as many as possible attend the dance as the proceeds are to go to the Lower Merion High School Alumni Association Memorial Scholarship Fund, together with the proceeds from the football game in the afternoon. The loyal support of every alumnus will aid materially in wiping out the deficit now existing in this fund.

G. O. P. ORGANIZATION

More Strongly Entrenched Than Ever in County as Result of Election.

The Republican organization in Montgomery is more firmly entrenched in power than ever before as a result of the national election. The vote justified the claims made in advance that Montgomery would stand next to Philadelphia and Pittsburgh in the matter of Coolidge pluralities.

With a 50 per cent. vote cast and in spite of the absence of red-fire methods, the party's plurality reached unprecedented heights and the President was given a margin of 33,694 votes, polling 42,436 to 8,742 for Davis and 2,567 for La Follette. It is reasonable to presume that the bulk of "stay-at-homes" were Republicans also and that, had they voted, the pluralities for the ticket would have approached, if not surpassed, 50,000.

The La Follette vote, as was predicted by well-informed observers, failed to materialize. A survey of industrial centers reveals no inroads on either the Democratic or Republican vote. In Pottstown, the largest industrial center, the third party polled only 598, which is virtually the normal Socialist vote. La Follette did not even threaten to carry any Pottstown wards, although Socialists in the past have been able to turn the trick in at least one district.

Norristown gave only 432 votes for the Radical ticket, and Bridgeport, the county's largest railroad center, gave a bare 107. Conshohocken, another large industrial town, polled 108 for the Wisconsin Senator. The places mentioned gave the bulk of the third party vote, which dwindled to nothingness in many of the suburban precincts. In the farming districts there was no evidence of La Follette sympathy.

The indifference of the Democrats to the outcome was the outstanding feature of the election. Both big factions within the party were disgruntled ever since the national convention, and neither had made an effort to help the ticket. This was strikingly illustrated in the case of the Keck crowd at Pottstown. That borough normally is Democratic, but polled 3840 votes for Coolidge against 1600 for Davis, the largest margin by which the Republicans have ever carried the community.

For the first time in history, the ward of David Keck, leader of the faction, went Republican by 200 plurality. Scores of Democrats voted for Coolidge and no effort was made to keep them in line for Davis.

In Norristown, the lair of Charles D. McAvoy, county leader, the second district of the Fourth ward, one of the Democratic strongholds of the county, went for Coolidge, and across the river in Bridgeport, the Third ward, traditionally Democratic, turned in a Republican plurality. These examples are typical of the lack of Democratic activity, and confirm the statement made recently that both ends of the party were "laying down on the job."

The total Democratic vote was 4000 less than that cast for James M. Cox in 1920.

Watson's Enormous Plurality.

During the latter days of the campaign an abortive attempt was made to stir up hostility to Congressman Henry W. Watson, a candidate for re-election. In the face of activity for a woman candidate bearing a Prohibition party label, plus the usual Democratic opposition, the Langhorne gentleman finds satisfaction in the fact that he was returned with the largest plurality ever given him, and with probably one of the largest pluralities given any member of Congress who faced opposition. Mr. Watson carried Montgomery by more than 30,000 and Bucks by 9000 and will have a plurality of 40,000 votes.

Dutch Cross for Mr. Bok.

In recognition of his "untiring efforts in providing a clear appreciation of Dutch history, culture, traditions and spirit," Edward Bok has received from Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands the Cross of the Knight of the Netherlands Lion, which is the most coveted decoration she confers.

Mr. Bok received the insignia and the accompanying documents on Monday through the Minister from the Netherlands to the United States. According to the citation, the writings of the Philadelphia about the land of his birth and its relations with the United States have contributed "to a more intelligent understanding between the two nations."

The order was created by William I in 1815. Only twice within five years has it been conferred on non-residents of the Netherlands.

NARBERTH CLUB

Praised for Its Handling of Tennis Activities the Past Season.

"When the Narberth Tennis Club, whose attractive courts greet one on Montgomery pike, just where Haverford road, Narberth, joins the Main Line traffic artery, staged the first Pennsylvania clay court tournament this summer, the solons over there sure put it over big," says Henry Musser in his weekly talk on tennis. "Not only was each match pulled off according to schedule, but there was an umpire for every match from the preliminaries to the final.

"It proved so popular with the contesting players that Narberth is practically certain to get this big Middle States event again in 1925, for nowhere, except the nationals, has such a thing been done before.

"Therefore, hand a figurative bouquet to Mr. W. D. R. Evans, better known as plain 'Bill,' president of the Narberth Tennis Club, for this innovation. It was only in keeping with his progressive spirit several years ago since in combining two clubs down in the town proper, purchasing some land which boasted an old barn right there at Montgomery pike and buckling down to hard work.

"Result: Today their club is accessible to visiting tourney and other players; they have seven fine clay courts with three more contemplated the barn has been remodeled into a modern clubhouse with fine appointments, and now you wouldn't recognize the place as the same forlorn thing it was three years ago.

Teams in Division 'A.'

"Throughout this season their tennis teams have been contenders in Division A of the Philadelphia Tennis Association Middle States League. Captained by A. P. Gragan, they have given Belfield, the leaders, a battle all the way for the hunting.

"To Cynwyd goes the second place in that division, but Narberth and Overbrook are fighting it out for third place as though the season had just started. West Jersey and Penn. A. C. are the other clubs in this division.

"To W. D. R. Evans, the president of Narberth's club, goes great credit for his hard work and self-effacement. As head of the West Walnut Club, Forty-ninth and Walnut streets, Mr. Evans for four years gave unstintingly of his time. And when West Walnut went the route of nearly all West Philadelphia tennis clubs, to make way for building operations, Narberth has been the gainer.

"A member of the executive committee of the Philadelphia Tennis Association since 1921, elected secretary of the same organization in 1923, and now a member of the executive committee of the new Middle States Lawn Tennis Association since its formation last January, his has been a valuable contribution to the sport.

"And now, with the new Brookline Square Club a reality out Delaware county way, he has been asked to take charge of the tennis affairs. This club with its 12 new courts, will play a prominent part in Philadelphia Tennis Association matters during the season of 1925, and the officials could have made no better choice than Mr. Evans.

"Already he has plans under way for putting Brookline Square Club team in Division B of the Middle States Tennis League, and judging by the success of his pet, the first Pennsylvania clay court championship at Narberth this year, Brookline is bound to see some great tennis.

"With Penn Mutual, of the Industrial League, at Highland Park, just a few miles away, there'll be friendly, yet spirited rivalry."

Natural Certified Milk.

The Board of Health of Lower Merion is determined that dealers serving certified milk in the township shall deliver only natural milk. In other words the Board will not permit anything to be "added to," nor "taken from" in the form of cream or skim milk, simply the natural milk.

Deputy Milk Control Officer S. M. Heulings estimated one dairy was supplying "certified milk" and making about $30 per day at the expense of the consumer by adding skim milk, according to a sample he examined.

Road Contract Awarded.

The Lower Merion Commissioners have awarded the contract for building a portion of Narberth avenue, Merion, to the Union Paving Company at $2.75 per square yard.

STEP ON VIOLATORS

L. M. Board of Health Tired of Studied Breaches of Rules by Milk Dealers.

The Lower Merion Township Board of Health held its regular monthly meeting on Monday evening. It was a busy and important meeting.

Some of the distributors of milk in Lower Merion have about exhausted the patience of the members of the board who are determined their rules governing the collecting, pasteurization and distribution of milk shall be complied with, otherwise licenses shall be revoked.

One distributor has had his attention called to violations of rules and a promise was given no more would occur and that the board's orders would be carried out. The suggestions made by the board have been disregarded, it is said, and now a last warning is about to be issued before vigorous measures will be taken.

In some instances dealers have been violating the rules through no direct fault of their own, and in such cases the board will go as far as consistent with public health.

One dealer was fined $10 and costs during the month for placing a label on a bottle of milk showing a wrong date.

Samples of milk taken from a few of the public schools in the township showed a high bacterial count, so much that a letter was sent to the school authorities and the dealer notifying them of conditions and that milk similar to the samples taken must be improved.

The board was pleased at the reception of letters from the many private schools in the township promising co-operation in regard to quality of milk.

Chemist D. W. Horn reported having taken samples of milk from 18 stores and eight public schools, and six samples of Springfield water.

Health Officer Reynolds reported that the test of the new serum "scarlatina antitoxin" tried in two cases of scarlet fever was a success.

Dr. Grim, the milk control officer, was more than busy during the month. Among other things he inspected 28 herds of cows for tuberculosis.

The matter of amending one of the rules concerning pasteurization of milk caused considerable discussion. It was finally agreed that Dr. S. M. Heulings, Dr. D. W. Horn and Dr. G. W. Grim should consult with Solicitor Williams and report at the next meeting.

The matter of how many votes each municipality comprising the present milk control area should have was discussed. Some members thought it should be as follows: Lower Merion, 19; Haverford, 5; Narberth, 3; Lansdowne, 4; and Aldan, 1. It was agreed to continue discussion at the December meeting.

ONLY 55 PER CENT. VOTE

In County in Spite of Record Registration—Cynwyd Women Lead.

Of the 110,000 enrolled voters in Montgomery county only a little more than half went to the polls on Tuesday, according to returns made to Controller Irvin at Norristown, the county seat, by the election officers.

The women who voted were 22,245 and the men 34,769, or a total of 57,014. In the missing districts the total is 3496. While the alignment as to sex is not known, the number added to the 57,014 makes the aggregate vote 60,510.

The actual figures in hand, divided as to sex shows that of the 57,014 total, 34,769 men and 22,245 women voted. If the 3496 votes cast in the missing districts (in which the alignment of sex is unknown) be divided equally into the men and women column the record would be:

	Men	Women	Total
Enrolled ..	55,686	54,414	110,100
Voted	36,517	23,993	60,510

Staid Home 19,169 30,241 49,590
The vote polled was nearly 55 per cent. of the total.

As 27,207 women voted, their percentage is considerably under 50 per cent. of their enrolled number of 54,414—in fact 32.14. The men's percentage is much higher—about 25 per cent. above one-half of their possible vote.

The banner women's district is Lower Merion, Cynwyd, were 462 voted. The highest number of the men in any one district was 677 in Alington, Weldon. The district with the fewest women voters is Franconia, South, with 10; and the lowest of men, 74, in both Franconia, North, and Franconia, South.

HUNTERS REJOICE

At Lifting of State Game Ban.

More than 8000 gunners of Montgomery county are rejoicing over the fact that the ban on hunting has been lifted. Berks and Chester counties likewise are open.

Counties and sections closed at present are the following: Braddock, Wyoming, Huntingdon, Lackawanna, Wayne, Susquehanna, Pike, Monroe, Columbia, north of the Susquehanna River; Luzerne, west of the Susquehanna River; Northampton, Lehigh, north of the Lehigh River. All of the other counties in the State are open, but gunners are requested to use every precaution against starting fires in timberland.

Word of the lifting of the ban was received last week from Game Protector J. S. Reinert, of Lansdale. Mr. Reinert stated that while the ban is lifted in Montgomery county, gunners must use every precaution against fires, for at any time that a serious fire occurs the ban may become effective again.

The counties and parts of counties still closed are those in what is known as the "danger area" at the present time. Serious fires have been burning in these districts and the State Game Commission announced that they will not be opened to gunning again until after a rain, regardless of the proclamation issued last week fixing November 6 as the new date.

Advice to Sportsmen.

"Every hunter, before going afield must be sure and secure a proper license and tag. See that the license contains the proper description, is signed by the owner and that the tag issued with the license is plainly displayed on the middle of the back on the outer garment. Some sportsmen complain that the new license tag is not substantial. Investigations have developed the fact, but a few of the early tags were defective because the dies were new and cut the aluminum. The 1924 tag is believed to be more substantial and will save the sportsmen $30,000 in cost of manufacture.

"Every sportsman is urged to read both sides of the license carefully and be governed by the seasons, bag limits, etc., as given on the back of each license.

"Violators of the game laws are enemies of true sportsmanship and a future supply of game. Sportsmen detecting violations should get the county number and the license number and forward them to a game protector or the board at Harrisburg. Hundreds of violations were detected in this manner last year.

"Game killed during the season may be kept after the close of the season for 30 days only.

"The law governing transportation of game is given on the back of every hunter's license. Specimens may be shipped out of the State for tanning or mounting by permit only.

Property Owners' Rights Should be Recognized.

"All true sportsmen will recognize the rights of property owners always, and if lands are posted against trespassing endeavor to secure permission from the owners before hunting thereon. Usually such lands are posted to protect a certain kind of game that happens to be scarce, and if permission is granted to hunt for other game, no true sportsman will abuse the privilege granted by killing game which the owner is trying to protect and increase. Where the confidence of the land owners is abused, it invariably means a denial of similar privileges to all sportsmen."

NEW FILTER PLANT

Erected at Crum Creek to Serve Main Line.

The new filter plant recently built by the Springfield Consolidated Water Company at Crum Creek, near Media, is the last word in modern construction and every care has been taken to insure an absolutely pure supply of water to the thousands of Main Line homes served by the company's mains.

This modern plant consisting of ten separate filters, has a capacity of 10,000,000 gallons a day, but as the maximum pumpage is considerably less than the present filter capacity, it will be readily seen how the water company engineers have planned for requirements far into the future.

A completely equipped laboratory for the testing of water is located at the plant and the company's chemist makes three analyses of the water daily. One, the raw water as it comes from the stream; two, the settled water as it comes from the reservoir, and three, the filtered water as it is delivered to the consumer. A copy of all analyses is furnished to the State Department of Health every week.

Even the water that is used to wash the filters daily is filtered and an elevated tank holding 125,000 gallons is used exclusively for this purpose.

Renewed Christian Activity.

The first week of the special evangelical services being held at the Methodist Church proved to be six of the most profitable evenings ever spent by a large representation of Narberth Christians.

Every speaker exerted real influence; left messages that made their audience think, and exhilarating song service were an added inspiration.

Next week will be just as interesting, if not more so, than the first week, and each evening offers a real inducement:

Sunday evening, November 16—

Dr. Dawson.

Monday evening, November 17—

Dr. H. Chalfant.

Tuesday evening, November 18—

Dr. Bertram Shay.

Wednesday evening, November 19—

Dr. Dawson.

Thursday evening, November 20—

Dr. C. M. Boswell.

Friday evening, November 21—

Dr. W. L. Amthor.

Come out and hear the chorus of young singers and join with them in singing the good old familiar songs; you can pick out the ones you like best and have them sung. Come, seek ye the Lord with us.

Presbyterian Seniors Take Lead in Bowling League.

The Presbyterian Seniors took three games from the Lutherans on Friday evening, November 7, and jumped to the top of the percentage column. The Lutherans were badly handicapped by having only three bowlers on the alleys. However, they redeemed themselves by taking three games from the Presbyterian Jrs. on Monday evening, November 10. The first game was very close, only two points separating the two teams. The next two games were easy for the Lutherans who ran up a score of 804 in the third score for November 7.

Burnshaw for a 20-yard gain, after the latter had successfully run around left end for five yards. McCall's next heave was intercepted by Dilworth, after which Joey Rubinschon snatched into the line for four yards. Several of the elusive innovations of Frank Frostburg landed the Main Liners on the 5-yard mark.

The next play Peabody elected to carry the ball and he slid across for the second score. Scull was successful this time in kicking the goal point. The half ended with the score standing at 13-0.

The score remained stationary throughout the rest of the game. The third period was one in which the visiting team played the best. It seemed as though they might score at many stages of the last half. Scull was the victim of a tough break when his field goal try failed, the ball missing the uprights by a very short distance.

In the last period, however, both teams opened up a stiff forward pass attack, which was in the main met by failure for both. Eddie McCall as a result of his hard playing seemed to die out and was forced to allow one of his teammates to boot for him at the latter part of the game. The game ended with the ball on the Lower Merion 45-yard line and the score standing at 13-0.

COUNCIL MEETING

Solicitor, Senator Fletcher W. Stites. Advice, though, would be welcomed.

Council answered the charge that they opposed street paving by citing the fact that Mr. C. A. S. McClellan had appeared before them some months ago with a petition signed by over 200 names, asking Council to quash the entire bond issue plan. Council refused to act on this, and urged the signers of the petition to withdraw their opposition to the loans and not block the street paving program.

It was on the basis of this request that organized opposition was disbanded, said Councilman Redifer. Later, the resolution showing that the cost would be shared was passed, and this he declared, did a great deal to remove the objections of those now on paved streets, many of whom have paid for their own paving.

Councilman Walton M. Wentz, chairman of the Highway Committee, took the floor in an effort to supplant long conversation by action. He requested his fellow members to decide there and then the proportion Council would pay. This was not done, though, as it was felt that the ruling of the Solicitor should be awaited. A special meeting may be called to clear up the question.

BOOK REVIEWS

Among the books to be found on the November list of the Community Library are the five which have been selected for review. Four are fiction and one autobiography.

"Nina" is the newest novel by Susan Ertz, whose last book was about the charming Madame Clair. Nina is quite a different character from Madame. Nina is young and from her babyhood has always thought and talked a great deal about love. Brought up with an adopted brother, she idolizes him and gives to him all the love she has. He is very selfish and not the kind of man to inspire the love that she bestows upon him. But there are two other men; one an Englishman, sober and full of grandfatherly advice, and the other a Frenchman, cheerful and most obliging, and it is these two who bring brightness and happiness into the girl's life.

"Balsand," by Joseph Herge-sheimer, is a novel with an historical setting. The time is just after the Revolutionary War, when the Government was in a rather unsettled condition. Washington was still the biggest name in the country, but Adams and Jefferson were being heard from. The scene of action is in Virginia and is a portrayal of life on the big plantations in those days, with much of the conversation dealing with politics and the growing struggle between the Federalists and the Republicans.

Honore Willies Morrow has written a rattling good novel in "The Devonshers." It is a story of the present day in the Rocky Mountains of Wyoming. The Devonshers, mother and daughter, are the last of the family who had at one time owned all of Antelope Basin. The neighbors hold a grudge against them because they act "uppity," and when one of the men of the place is found murdered, Eve Devonshers is suspected. The story is of her trial and the life histories of the townspeople which are brought out in the courtroom.

"Marbacka," written by Selma Lagerlof, is the only autobiography on the November list. It is a translation from the Swedish and portrays the home life of the Lagerlof family. There is nothing startling in the achievements of this family, the parents and children and servants are pictured in their everyday life, playing, eating, sleeping and story telling. It is through this story telling that the author is able to bring out facts about her ancestors and particularly of her grandparents and their courtship and life at Marbacka. It is an interesting picture of certain phases of Swedish life told by one of that country's foremost writers.

A story of the South during the Civil War and just afterward is told in Thomas Nelson Page's novel, "The Red Riders." The author portrays the slave owning Southern family, Lincoln the war President, the Northern folks with their feeling against slavery and the attempts to straighten out the Negro problem in South Carolina after the war. It is a typical romance of the old South. The author died just after he had finished the manuscript and his brother put the notes into final form.

LOWER MERION HIGH NEWS

By W. B. S.

Club Activities Get Under Way.

Club activities have once more started at the high school and although clubs have only been installed in Lower Merion in the last two years they seem to have become more or less a part of the school's daily routine.

Clubs so far have not only aided the student on centralizing his mind on matters about the school, but have also proved invaluable in making the daily school work more interesting as they have partly succeeded in abolishing the so-called grind of the student's life.

Several new clubs thus far have put their names on Lower Merion's scroll, two of the new ones being the Camera Club and the Stamp and Coin Club. Although the Stamp and Coin Club has not organized as yet, the number of students looking forward to joining such a club makes a bright outlook for it. The Camera Club has already been organized and has made very decided progress toward the school's wealth of interest. On the Camera Club's bulletin board have been seen several very interesting pictures of different plays in the recent football games taken by some of their members. The officers of this club are: President, Ivan Gould; vice president, Miss Dillin; secretary, Wilbur Zimmerman.

The Latin Club, which has been thriving during the past two years, has started towards a good beginning, having in store for its members compositions—the compositions being: "The Life of a Roman," "The Roman Costumes," "Roman Architecture," "The Life in a Roman Army." The officers elected in this club are: President, Walton Forestall; vice president, James Smyth; secretary, Gladys Doulte; supervisor, Mr. Wolfe.

The Juniors have organized a dramatic club under the name of The Players' Club. This club plans to give several interesting playlets at assembly throughout the year. The officers elected were as follows: President, John Jones; vice president, W. Zimmerman; secretary, C. Timlin; treasurer, Fred Egmore.
